Coaches guide us, inspire us to do more than we thought was possible. If you are a teen or a younger adult looking for your first job, unemployed and looking for a new job, or someone who wants to change your game plan, the Greater Roanoke Workforce Board has the coaches you need.

We connect you with employers who are looking for people just like you, assist with job search and job placement, even help you navigate the challenges and choices ahead. You can use our resources to search for a job independently, get easy access to computers, printers, the internet and job referrals, even do video interviews. Or we can coach you one on one. You will learn in demand skills in the classroom, on the job, or we will match you to internships.

We will go over fundamentals, how to put your game face on for an interview, how to write a winning resume, and if there is something we can't do, we bring in special teams, partners, who can. And where will all this coaching take you? To high demand fields such as: healthcare, manufacturing, construction and trades, education, transportation, logistics, and more.

You may need additional resources to be successful in your search. That's why we assist with transportation, books, tools, uniforms, even pay for training. We help young people find their first job, adults find the right job, and make everyone more marketable.

Searching for a job can be frustrating, feel lonely, but you're never alone. We coach you every step of the way. The Greater Roanoke Workforce Board- for the access, for the assist, for the win.
